Re: Baltimore Lab School

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in support of the Baltimore Lab School Watershed Stewards of the Chesapeake Bay. As the program manager of the Healthy Harbor Initiative with the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, I work with Baltimore Lab School to engage high school students through oyster restoration.

The Baltimore Lab School grows oysters in the Middle River in Baltimore, MD. The students involved in the project are excited and engaged each as they learn more about oysters and their key role in the Chesapeake Bay.

I look forward to working with the students at the Baltimore Lab School to grow oysters in the Baltimore harbor and to investigate other wildlife in the Patapsco River.

The Chesapeake Bay Foundation supports the Baltimore Lab School and will continue to provide the opportunity for the students to explore the harbor and the Chesapeake Bay. .

If you have any questions, please contact me at 443-482-2011.

Sincerely,

Chesapeake Bay Trust

To Whom It May Concern:

The Severn River Association (SRA) and the Master Watershed Stewards of Ben Oaks on the Severn would like to thank the Baltimore Lab School for partnering with us to learn about the Severn and the Chesapeake Bay and to share experiences in the environment of the Severn River and its creeks. Both groups are proud that this partnership is paying off now with students continuing their love for the environment by graduating from college in the field of environmental engineering.

We wholeheartedly support the Baltimore Lab School efforts to provide wide-ranging experiences for those interested not only in biology or marine science, but also in using art skills and mathematics applied to environmental issues. These students are key to changing the behavior of others, no matter what their interests, to benefit the bay and all creatures who depend on clean water.

Respectfully,

Lynne Rockenbauch
President, Severn River Association
Ben Oaks Master Watershed Steward

The Severn River Association is the oldest river association in the U.S. and Anne Arundel County's only river group in continuous operation since 1911. SRA meets the third Tuesday of each month at 7 p.m. at various locations throughout the Severn River Watershed. The meetings are free. Residents and representatives of community associations are encouraged to attend, get involved and make their opinions on watershed issues known.
